

Plants and Things

Each week we profile a local business so that you can learn more about products and services available locally. These business profiles are written by Olivia Romero, School-to-Career intern, using information gathered by University of Iowa Anthropology Students during interviews conducted this summer.

Business Description

Plants and Things is a place where one can go and find anything from flowers and balloons to teddy bears. They also have candles and little ornaments. Their specialties are fresh flowers and plants.
